

Connecteam Employee Terms, Conditions, and Privacy Policy

Transitions Legacy Center Terms & Conditions

By accessing or using Transitions Legacy Center's Connecteam platform, mobile application, website, or other company-provided communication and workforce-management tools, you agree to comply with these Terms & Conditions and all applicable Transitions Legacy Center policies and procedures.

The Connecteam platform is provided for authorized business and organizational purposes, including workplace communication, scheduling, time and attendance, training, announcements, task management, document sharing, and other activities related to Transitions Legacy Center operations. Users are responsible for using the platform appropriately and only accessing information, features, and resources for which they have authorization.

Users are expected to maintain professional and respectful communication at all times. Harassment, discrimination, threats, inappropriate content, unauthorized disclosure of confidential information, misuse of company resources, or any activity that violates applicable laws or company policies is prohibited. Users must protect their account credentials and must not share their login information with others.

Company information, client information, employee information, internal communications, documents, schedules, and other materials accessed through Connecteam may be confidential and must be handled in accordance with Transitions Legacy Center policies and applicable privacy and confidentiality requirements. Users must not copy, distribute, disclose, or use confidential information for unauthorized purposes.

Transitions Legacy Center reserves the right to modify, suspend, restrict, or terminate access to Connecteam or other company systems when necessary for operational, security, compliance, or employment-related reasons. The company may also update these Terms & Conditions as its services, policies, or legal requirements change.

By continuing to use Connecteam for Transitions Legacy Center activities, you acknowledge that you have read and agree to follow these Terms & Conditions, along with all applicable company policies, procedures, and guidelines.

Company Privacy Policy

Transitions Legacy Center Privacy Policy

Transitions Legacy Center respects the privacy of employees, contractors, peer mentors, volunteers, clients, and other individuals who interact with the organization. This Privacy Policy explains how information may be collected, used, stored, and protected when using Connecteam and other company-provided systems.

Information collected through Connecteam may include information necessary for workplace operations, such as your name, contact information, account information, work schedule, time and attendance records, training information, messages, tasks, documents, and other information you voluntarily provide or that is necessary to administer your role with Transitions Legacy Center.

Information may be used to support organizational operations, including employee and workforce management, scheduling, communication, training, payroll or timekeeping processes, security, compliance, administrative activities, and providing services. Transitions Legacy Center will use information only for legitimate organizational purposes and will take reasonable measures to protect information from unauthorized access, use, disclosure, or loss.

Access to information is limited to individuals who have a legitimate business or organizational need to access it, subject to applicable policies and permissions. Information may also be disclosed when required by law, regulation, court order, or when necessary to protect the rights, safety, security, or property of Transitions Legacy Center, its clients, employees, or other individuals.

Connecteam and other third-party technology providers may process information on behalf of Transitions Legacy Center as part of providing their services. Their handling of information may also be governed by their own privacy policies and terms.

Users are responsible for maintaining the security of their account credentials and should promptly report suspected unauthorized access, security concerns, or privacy incidents to Transitions Legacy Center administration.

Transitions Legacy Center may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in its operations, technology, services, or legal requirements. Continued use of company systems after an updated policy is provided constitutes acknowledgment of the updated policy.

For questions regarding this Privacy Policy or the handling of personal information, users may contact Transitions Legacy Center administration.